

WORKING WITHCANCER®

CHANGING THE CONVERSATION ABOUT CANCER AND WORK

All the expertise, support and training you need in ONE place

Working With Cancer®
supports

- employees,
- employers,
- the self-employed,
- job seekers,
- health professionals and
- carers

affected by cancer to stay in work, return to work or find new work.

*“I would not be at work today if it wasn't for my coach.
I just know I would have given up.”*

LW, Risk Analyst

Individual Coaching

For organisations; 1-2-1 coaching for employees affected by cancer including:

- Coaching needs assessment
- Coaching contract with agreed objectives
- Information materials and practical resources
- Briefing meetings with manager and HR
- Post coaching evaluation meeting(s)
- Unlimited support for line manager & HR

For individuals we offer coaching and career advice to the self-employed, health professionals, carers and job seekers.

Consultancy

Consultancy advice for employers on return to work policies and processes, including setting up support groups or buddying networks for those with chronic illnesses or who are returning to work after a period of long-term absence.

(Virtual) Training & Workshops

Successfully managing cancer in the workplace for HR, line managers, employees, working carers, mental health first aiders and health professionals, covering:

- Dealing with the physical and psychological impact of cancer
- Managing cancer and Covid
- The Equality Act and reasonable adjustments
- Talking about cancer at work
- Coping with bereavement

Drop-in Clinics

On-line or telephone sessions for employees seeking advice, information and support for themselves or on behalf of their family about cancer & work.

About Working With Cancer®

Working With Cancer® was founded in 2014 by Barbara Wilson, a former senior HR professional with over 40 years' experience. As a Social Enterprise the fees the Company makes subsidise its work for cancer charities, and for individuals seeking coaching or advice without a company's sponsorship. Those in financial need are eligible for free support. Any profits made are ploughed back into the community and the Company.

WWC's Associates are experts in the fields of training, consultancy and coaching. What's more, they have all had cancer themselves – or had a profound personal experience of it.

Further resources

The following resources are often used in our support programmes and training. They can also be used independently.

Working With Cancer® has developed Best Practice Guides providing practical advice and guidance to:

- Line Managers
- Employees with cancer
- Working Carers
- Colleagues

We've also developed a Career Coaching Workbook for cancer survivors and cancer carers. It has been designed to work through with our coaches or to use independently.

Quarterly Newsletters with the latest news, updates about our services, workshops dates and top tips on managing cancer at work.

Benefits

Being good for business, good for the economy, good for society and good for people affected by cancer, our support:

- Reduces sickness absence and the cost of cover
- Saves recruitment costs
- Retains skills and talent
- Improves team morale
- Protects and enhances a company's reputation
- Fulfils legal obligations
- Aids the recovery of many cancer survivors.

“My coach was invaluable in providing guidance and support not only to the member of staff returning to work, but also for me as a manager.

Being able to share concerns and seek advice around what is often a very difficult subject was critical to ensuring a successful outcome for everyone was achieved.

James Thorne, Executive Director – Membership, Institution of Occupational Safety and Health (IOSH)

Clients and supporters

Website

Email

Mobile

Twitter

Newsletter

LinkedIn

www.workingwithcancer.co.uk

admin@workingwithcancer.co.uk

+44 (0)7910 835585

@WorkWithCancer

sign-up here

www.linkedin.com/company/working-with-cancer

